Dedicated to the

He walks tall, though "feet and inches" isn't his strong point. He may smile and wink when a student walks by, but not always. He hands out tests and laughs at bewildered faces, but when grade cards come he frowns and squeezes that 60 percent to a low D. He senses "lecture boredom" and cracks a joke which some students, writing away, include in their notes. In study hall, his voice rings out "shut up and get busy" with monarchial authority, and yet with a sensitive student he just walks by and softly says, "you'd better do some work now."

He has much work and little pay, but when a student is in need, he's friend, leader, counselor.

Who is he? He symbolizes 'all' at Crestview.

They are TEACHERS.

We dedicate this 1969 Cavalier to all our teachers who may have been eliminated by now if their patience, care, and endurance hadn't proven to us that they were worth the money we invested in oil for our midnight lamps, pills for our headaches, and erasers for our pencils.

We hope we have proven that our typewriter ribbons, our number 2 lead pencils, and our yellow tablet paper was worth their chalk dust, their gold stars, and their tolerance.

We were always impressed with the books they thought we were responsible enough to read outside of class. We were just as greatly impressed with their opinions of our lowly textbooks. They were always the symbol of authority and fear at Crestview, but when we observed them in our many extracurricular activities, we realized that they were really human too. They will always be our friends.

We could not dedicate this Cavalier to any one of them alone for we are the product of the work of all of them. Therefore, we dedicate this, the 1968-69 Cavalier to the entire teaching staff of Crestview High School.

Memories Are Made of This

SISTERS
Varsity captain Linda Linn pins a mum on her sister, Kathy, a reserve cheerleader, before the Homecoming Game.

The he-men of Crestview.

PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE TEAM. ROW ONE: Ron Jones, Denny Gardner, Bob Snyder, Jay Shutt. ROW TWO: Ron Young, Loren Hurless, Jim Etzler, Ron DeLong, Bob McOmber, Jim Poling, Ken Foehl, Floyd Fegley.

Farewell to Crestview High School

We, the seniors of the 1968-69 Cavalier Staff, Rose, Martha, and Susy have had trying times putting this, your 1969 Cavalier together, but we cannot say that we have not enjoyed the times we had working together with the student body and the members of the faculty.

We could not capture in such a small book, all the wonderful (and sad) happenings of everybody here at Crestview, both as classes and as a school, but we hope we have included the special moments in all your lifes.

We would like to thank everyone who assisted us in our efforts, with a sincere thanks to Mr. Fleming, Mr. Cole, Mr. Whitaker, and especially Miss McQuilkin.

To the 1969-70 yearbook staff and their new advisor, Mrs. Forney, we wish the best of luck. To all underclassmen we wish the opportunity to have as much fun while learning as we had.

Now, to our fellow classmates and long-time friends, the class of 1969, we wish all the happiness we have had together to continue. To aid you in this goal we now present to you, your stepping stone to remembrance, the 1969 Cavalier.
